

John Varughese

Senior Vice President, International

John Varughese joined Dunkin' Brands in January 2003 as International Business Manager, and currently serves as Senior Vice President, International. In this role, John is responsible for all aspects of Baskin-Robbins and Dunkin' business units, including leading long-term strategic planning, in nearly 70 international markets around the world.

Prior to joining Dunkin' Brands, John served as Manager for the Gulf for Galadari Ice Cream Company, Baskin-Robbins' licensee for much of the Middle East. In this role, John was responsible for managing Baskin-Robbins' operations in the Gulf countries. John began his career in international sales with Smith Kline Beecham Consumer Brands.

John received his Bachelor of Commerce from the University of Pune, his Masters in Commerce from the University of Pune, and his MBA from IMDR PUNE.

He is drinkin' Dunkin' Original Blend and scoopin' Baskin-Robbins Cotton Candy ice cream.